The Chicago Tribune.

VOL. XXII. CHICAGO, SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1868. NUMBER 39.

GRANT.

The General's Visit to His Home in Illinois.

Continued Ovation from Chicago to Galena.

Cordial and Enthusiastic Welcome from Friends and Neighbors.

The People in Mass Escort the General to His Residence.

An Evening Serenade.

Speeches by General Grant, Colonel J. C. Smith, B. H. McLellan, and Others.

GRAND GALA TRIP FROM CHICAGO TO GALENA.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

GALENA, Ill., Aug. 7.

None of the citizens of this city, nor of many of the surrounding towns, will forget the 7th of August for a long time to come. It would not be surprising if the General and Colonel Grant should be induced to make their residence in Galena, for the people would be pleased to have the latter remain with them. Colonel Grant has endeared himself to the people of this city by the kindness of his heart and the affability of his manners, and that the General should feel a similar interest in the welfare of the people of Galena is but natural. The General has been absent from home for a long time, and that the citizens of his native town should desire to welcome him back to his old home, and that they should do it in a manner which would manifest their appreciation of his services to the country, was but natural. The General has been the recipient of many ovations, but that which was tendered him to-day by the people of Galena was one of the most enthusiastic and spontaneous that has been given him. The whole city was astir early this morning, and the streets were filled with people, all anxious to get a glimpse of the General and his wife. The General and party arrived in Galena at 10:30 o'clock, and from that time until 2 o'clock in the afternoon the streets were filled with a dense mass of people, who were anxious to get a shake of the hand of the General. The reception was a most enthusiastic one, and the General was overwhelmed with congratulations. The reception was held in front of the residence of Mr. Washburne, and the General and his wife stood on the steps of the house, and were surrounded by the committee of arrangements, the members of the Galena Band, and the Chicago Committee. The General was introduced to the people by Mr. Washburne, and he was received with cheers. He said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I am glad to see you all here to-day. I am glad to see you all in health, and I am glad to see you all so glad to see me. [Laughter.] I have no speech to make to you. I have been long enough in the army to know that a soldier should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in civil life to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in the White House to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have nothing to say to you to-day, except to thank you for this reception. [Cheers.]

Colonel Grant was then introduced, and he said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I am glad to see you all here to-day. I am glad to see you all in health, and I am glad to see you all so glad to see my father. [Laughter.] I have no speech to make to you. I have been long enough in the army to know that a soldier should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in civil life to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in the White House to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have nothing to say to you to-day, except to thank you for this reception. [Cheers.]

Mr. B. H. McLellan was then introduced, and he said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I am glad to see you all here to-day. I am glad to see you all in health, and I am glad to see you all so glad to see my father. [Laughter.] I have no speech to make to you. I have been long enough in the army to know that a soldier should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in civil life to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in the White House to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have nothing to say to you to-day, except to thank you for this reception. [Cheers.]

Colonel J. C. Smith was then introduced, and he said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I am glad to see you all here to-day. I am glad to see you all in health, and I am glad to see you all so glad to see my father. [Laughter.] I have no speech to make to you. I have been long enough in the army to know that a soldier should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in civil life to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have been long enough in the White House to know that a man should not make a speech unless he has something to say. I have nothing to say to you to-day, except to thank you for this reception. [Cheers.]

POLITICAL.

Democracy as At is Now Preached Its Ventures.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, August 7.

There was a small Democratic mobilization meeting at Wade Hampton, Va., a few days since, attended by about 1,000 persons. The meeting was very enthusiastic. Gordon, who presided, made a speech in favor of the Democratic ticket. He said: [Here follows a long report of the speech, which is not worth reading.]

Secretary of the State of Illinois, he called upon the people to renew their vows to the Democratic party, and to support the Democratic ticket to the end that the Union may be restored to its former glory. He said that the Democratic party was the party of the people, and that the Democratic party was the party of the people, and that the Democratic party was the party of the people, and

The Tribune.
SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1857.

CUBA TO CHINA.

The Question of the Day.

Japanese Embassy.

A Splendid Speech from Cobden

Speech of Lieutenant-Governor Ross

GREECE.

Thirty-two Liberal Commissioners.

Exhibition of the Parthenon Sculptures.

The National Dinner and the Great Council.

EUROPE.

Troubles of the Spanish Royal Family.

The Eastern Question.

Germany. Bishop Dubois' Funeral Sermon.

The Polish King and His Liberties.

Poland, its Ancient Glory and Present Fate.

Arrest of Count Cieski's Property.

From the Continent.

THE SAXTON PROTOCOL.

Rome and Prussia. Progress in the Campagna.

Rome Gossip.

Medical.

HELMBOLD'S

Genuine Preparation!

H

"Highly Concentrated"

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT

BUCHU,

A POSITIVE AND SPECIFIC REMEDY

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

E

Also for Diseases arising from Habits of Dissipation, Excesses and Indulgences, as well in Male as Female, and is taken by Man, Women and Children.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU,

For Weakness arising from Habits of Dissipation, Excesses and Indulgences, as well as in the following diseases:

IMPOTENCE, PARESIS, EPILEPTIC FITS,

In one of which the patient was seized

While conversing with a friend. They are now in the Insane Asylum.

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but

THE INMATES of the INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the prematurely aged by Consumption, were ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The maladies produced by

Organic Weakness,

Require the aid of a tonic to restore the lost energy and give the system vitality.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

INVARIABLY DOES.

A Trial will Convince The Most Skeptical.

L

Each Advertiser possesses a Positive, written proof, which will be shown to any person in search of the truth.

THE EXTRACT BUCHU

Is unequaled by anyother remedy.

No Family Should be Without It.

M

Take no more Balsams, Mixtures, or Unpleasant Medicines after using the Unpleasant and Disagreeable Diseases.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

AND

IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Cure These Diseases,

In all their stages, at little expense, little time (though it does not interfere with our business), and no exposure. It is immediate in its action, and a perfect Diuretic, as it purifies, strengthens, and invigorates the system. Prevents Consumption, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Fits, Weakness, Impotency, Sterility, Pain in the Back, Kidneys, Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Discharges, Pain in the Urethra, Diseases of the Urethra, Stricture and Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, Confusion of Ideas, Sore Throat, Sexual Excesses and Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, Female Complaints, Obstructions, Irregularities, Painful Menstruation, Ulceration of the Uterus or Vagina, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, Barrenness, Incompetency, Nervousness, Lassitude, Want of Energy, Loss of Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Impure Blood, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Skin, Headache, Pain in the Side, Nervous Irritability, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Epilepsy or Fits, Mercurial Diseases, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Boils, Tumors, Ulcers, Humors, Tetter, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scurfiness, Black Spots, Worms, Scrofula, Consumption, Erysipelas, Syphilis, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gout, Gravel, Piles, Fistula, Fever Sores, Scurvy, Dyspepsia, Female Weakness

Third Day of the American Scientific Congress.

Abolition of a Large Number of New Members.

Alteration of the Programme of Proceedings.

Reading of Interesting and Important Papers.

Arrangements for To-Day.

The Association for the Advancement of Science convened in the Academy of Sciences this morning at 10:30 o'clock, the President, Professor J. L. Cook, in the chair.

Dr. Newcomb, permanent Secretary, presented the following names of parties recommended for election to membership: A. S. Wadsworth, Jacksonville, Florida; Prof. M. L. Dyer, Middlebury; Dr. John Bartlett, Norfolk; John D. Cutler, Oberlin; C. S. Bradley, Cleveland; Prof. J. P. Kimball, Boston; Professor Lemuel Foot, Peoria; Prof. E. H. Allen, Philadelphia; S. C. Weil, Philadelphia; J. H. Klippart, Columbus, Ohio; Dr. J. P. Hall, Cincinnati; Horace Wheelock; Dr. C. I. Hill, Chicago; Hiram Hollenbeck, Chicago; J. Sawyer Wiswell, Troy, New York; Dr. Wm. Hamilton, New York; E. W. Hawkins, San Diego, California; Dr. John F. Hay, Cedar Rapids; Prof. H. Rensselaer, Hamilton, N. Y.; Prof. E. Lyman, Chicago; E. T. S. Bissell, Chicago; C. Colvert, Chicago; Charles P. Dyer, Chicago; Colonel Joseph Cummings, Galena; Dr. J. Lanphear; Sanford R. Ladue, Chicago; G. S. Scott, Chicago; George H. Perkins, Cincinnati; W. O. Atwater, Rose Hill, Mississippi; Prof. J. Lawrence Smith, Louisville; Dr. Joseph Leidy, Philadelphia; H. W. Fair, Davenport; Dr. O. Bronson, Dixon, Ill.; Rev. Dr. W. W. Boone, Chicago; W. G. Lehmann, Chicago; Prof. Wm. Hall, A.M., Cedar Rapids; Prof. Wm. Ferrel, A.M., Cambridge, Mass.; Prof. Wm. Chauvenet, A.M., Annapolis, Md.; C. C. Pike, M. D., Cincinnati; Prof. Alex. Winchell, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Prof. Joseph Lovering, Cambridge, Mass.; Professor Charles Whittlesey, Cleveland; Dr. T. C. Duncan, Chicago.

The nominations were agreed to by a vote.

Assistant Secretary Newcomb read a report of the Council, stating that a change of programme had been suggested at the meeting of the Association held in Albany, in August last, by which, in the conclusion of the subject of meteorology, the paper now to be presented on the subject of rain would be left to the last. The Council, however, do not believe that the interests of science would be promoted by such a change, and therefore recommend that the order of business remain unchanged. Should the author of the paper referred to not be present, the Secretary was instructed to read the paper of Professor Loomis, which was published in the Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge, and which is now out of print.

The Council also recommend that the Secretary be instructed to procure a sufficient number of copies of the Proceedings of the Association to supply the wants of members who may desire to obtain them after the publication of the present volume.

The Council also recommend that the Secretary be instructed to procure a sufficient number of copies of the Proceedings of the Association to supply the wants of members who may desire to obtain them after the publication of the present volume.

It was also recommended